Questions 21 – 27

Read the article about having a healthy diet.

Are sentences 21 – 27 'Right' (A) or 'Wrong' (B)?

If there is not enough information to answer 'Right' (A) or 'Wrong' (B), choose 'Doesn't say' (C).

For questions 21 – 27, mark A, B or C.

A healthy diet

Everyone should have a healthy diet. But what does this mean? If you think it means eating lots of fresh fruit and vegetables and no chocolate and sweets, then you're wrong. A healthy diet is actually a balanced diet with lots of different kinds of food.

There are several food groups, for example, dairy, which includes milk and cheese, protein which includes meats like chicken and pork, as well as other groups. Fruit and vegetables are also important food groups. We should eat food from all these different groups.

People have unhealthy diets when they eat too much of one kind of food and not enough of another. Someone who eats lots of bread, pasta and potatoes all the time and not enough fruit doesn't have a very healthy diet. On the other hand, someone who eats only things like cheese and vegetables doesn't have a very balanced diet either.

Each food group is good for us in different ways. While some foods give us energy, others help our bodies to grow or to stay strong. Our bodies need to get lots of different things from the food we eat, and eating a balanced diet means that we get all of the things we need to be fit and healthy.

Example:

0 Most people eat a healthy diet.

A Right B Wrong C Doesn't say

Answer: 0 ☐ A ☐ B ☒ C

21 Eating healthily means eating only vegetables and fruit.

A Right B Wrong C Doesn't say

24 We shouldn't eat just one type of food.

A Right B Wrong C Doesn't say

25 People who don't eat meat don't have a healthy diet.

A Right B Wrong C Doesn't say

A Right B Wrong C Doesn't say
